WHAT WE CALL HELL, HE CALLS HOME

We all hate visits to the Department of Motor Vehicles, but I.D. photographer David Milken shows up every day with pride.

From celebrity sightings to drive test disasters, David and his dubious crew of public servant coworkers do daily battle with brainless bureaucrats, barrels of red tape, and that most loathsome of adversaries — The American driving public.

Waiting in line has never been so much fun.

"A masterfully executed comedy!"
